Recovery Plan

To create a comprehensive relapse prevention plan, start by examining how your addiction has affected you in different areas of life. This will give you a better picture of the consequences of your addiction.

Emotional: Physical:
Spiritual:
Financial:
Work/School:
Relationships: Legal:
Other:
How do the examples above show that you are powerless over your addiction?

Risk Factors

Some people are more vulnerable to addiction than others, often due to genetics and other risk factors beyond their control. Understanding these factors and how they might affect your recovery can be empowering.	Take a moment to review the following risk factors and check off any that apply to you.

Family history of addiction
Trauma
Mental illness
Growing up in poverty or an unsafe neighborhood
Other:
Other:

One effective way to counteract risk factors is by building resilience—the ability to recover and grow stronger after challenges. You can strengthen your resilience by surrounding yourself with supportive people, fostering optimism, and finding a sense of purpose or meaning in life.

Strengths & Values

Next, it's time to examine your personal values and character strengths. Using the list below, choose your top three values. You can also write in your own values. Write about how your addiction has impacted these values. You'll write about your values again when you write your commitment statement. Reflect on your personal strengths and use the list to pick your top five. When you write your commitment statement, incorporate your values. Write about how you'll use them, specifically, to help you stay sober.

1.	Compassion
2.	Honesty
3.	Integrity
4.	Courage
5.	Respect
6.	Kindness
7.	Generosity
8.	Accountability
9.	Perseverance
10.	Creativity
11.	Open-mindedness
12.	Empathy
13.	Gratitude
14.	Justice
15.	Freedom

16.Loyalty	_
17.Curiosity	_
18.Balance	_
19.Humility
20.Fairness	_
21.Wisdom	_
22.Connection	I
23.Growth	_
24. Responsibil	ity
25.Spirituality
26.Humor
27.Patience
28.Independer	nce
29.Adventure
30.Love
31.Other:
32.Other:
33.Other:
34.Other:
How my addict	tion has impacted my v	ralues:
Character Stren		A Institute on Character's framework.
declare your dediction the areas listed about	cation to living a sober bove. Let your values a	rourself, committing to a new sober life. In this letter, life. Be specific about how you will improve in each of nd strengths guide your words. Be as detailed as improve in each of the above life areas.

4

Triggers & Warning Signs

Triggers can be internal, like thoughts and emotions, or external, such as people, places, or things. They're powerful reminders of drinking or drug use and can lead to intense cravings.  The five most commonrelapse triggers are (Cherry, 2012):

_
Stress  People or places associated with using ☐ Challenging emotions
Sights, sounds, or smells linked to using Times of celebration
You might relate to some, all, or none of these common triggers. The key is to personal list of triggers unique to you.	create your own
Create a list of your top five triggers. For each trigger, come up with a plan for	= cope. Avoidance, although not always possible, is usually your best bet. Recove	• hard; you don't want to make it any harder by putting your willpower to the te	st.
Triggers Plan (Action Step)
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
Emotions
LITIOUOUS
Emotions, particularly the challenging ones like frustration, guilt, and anger, sa	n ha nawarful
Emotions, particularly the challenging ones like frustration, guilt, and anger, ca triggers. Even positive emotions, such as those you feel during celebrations, ca	•
For each emotion listed below (Davis, n.d.), write down how you plan to manage
way.	3c it iii a licaltily
ENJOYMENT EXCITEMENT HAPPINESS
JOY
CELEBRATORY SADNESS REJECTION
INSULTED OFFENDED

ANNOYED LONELINESS

ANXIETY WORRY FEAR VENGEFUL ANGER FRUSTRATED

Warning Signs

Warning signs are noticeable changes in you that indicate you're at risk of relapsing. Common warning signs include isolation, not attending 12-step meetings, sleeping too much, and irritability.

Not attending 12-step meetings
Not participating in 12-step meetings
Not engaging with sponsor/network
Isolating
Sleeping too much or too little

Eating too much or t	oo little
	Not being of service to others
=	Complacency
	Skipping work or school
	☐ Neglecting basic hygiene or self-care
Dishonesty/lying	iene of sen care
= " ' '	shadula/routing you croated for yoursalf chedule/routine you created for yourself
☐ Keeping secrets
Romanticizing past u	se
☐ Irritability
☐ Mood swings	ans as proseribed
☐ Not taking medication	•
	t relationships in your life
Spending excessive a	·
	eople's problems instead of dealing with your own ☐ Depression ☐ Anxiety
Decreased performa people who drink/use
Other:
U Other:
U Other:
Other:
Other:
For each warning sign you	checked off, write down a specific plan for how you'll ge	at hack on checked off, write down a specific plan for flow you if ge	ST DACK OII
track if you experience it.	Diam / Astion Cham)	]
Warning Sign	Plan (Action Step)

Coping Skills

Coping skills can help you successfully navigate a strong urge to use. They're also part of a healthy lifestyle and recovery maintenance plan.

For each trigger you previously identified, write down a coping strategy that will realistically help you manage if the trigger becomes a craving. Examples include deep breathing, calling your sponsor, or distracting yourself with a book or video clip. It can be helpful to categorize your triggers as internal (thoughts and emotions) or external (people, places, and things). Knowing whether a trigger is internal or external can guide how you cope with it.

Trigger	Plan (Action Step)

Next, create a list of 10 coping skills that you plan to use daily to help you stay healthy and maintain a positive mindset—key ingredients for managing cravings more effectively. Review the ideas on the next page for some helpful examples.

- 1. Exercise
- 2. Journal
- 3. Drink water
- 4. Sing
- 5. Call sponsor
- 6. Attend a 12-step meeting
- 7. Take a hot bath or a warm shower
- 8. Meditate
- 9. Dance
- 10. Cook
- 11. Pray
- 12. Color

Source: https://www.yourlifeyourvoice.org/pages/tip-99-coping-skills.aspx

My Daily Coping Skills

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8 9 10

My Support Network

List at least five people you can count on when you feel like using:

NAME	CONTACT NUMBER
1
2
3
4
5

Creating a Routine

Addiction thrives in chaos. Having a routine offers predictability, which helps reduce stress and create a sense of safety. A routine also reduces boredom and keeps you engaged in healthy, purposeful activities. Use the template below to create a daily schedule for yourself. Be sure to include time for self-care, leisure activities, exercise, connection, and spiritual/religious activities.

Day/time	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
6:00 AM
7:00 AM
8:00 AM
9:00 AM
10:00 AM
11:00 AM
12:00 PM
1:00 PM
2:00 PM
3:00 PM
4:00 PM
5:00 PM
6:00 PM
7:00 PM
8:00 PM
9:00 PM
10:00 PM

Time

Time

Once you've completed your recovery plan, share it with your sponsor, therapist, or other important people in your support network! For more information on relapse prevention planning and access to additional free templates, see https://www.therecoveryvillage.com/treatment-program/aftercare/relapse-prevention-plan/.

References

Cherry, K. (2012, January 20). 5 relapse triggers and how to prepare for them. Verywell Mind. https://www.verywellmind.com/why-did-i-relapse-21900

Davis, T. (n.d.). List of emotions: 271 emotion words (+ PDF). The Berkeley Well-Being Institute. https://www.berkeleywellbeing.com/list-of-emotions.html

Peterson, C., & Seligman, M. E. P. (2004). Character strengths and virtues: A handbook and classification. Oxford University Press and American Psychological Association.